

Doggie Delights is a design project in which I was asked to create three different variants of the same product.

My product idea was to make dog treats. One of the variants was for small dogs, one for medium sized dogs, and one for large dogs.

